

Laptop Protective Services™

Do you know where your confidential information is when it is on laptops outside the office?

You should...it's the LAW

The Problem... Your confidential information is at risk

- Laptops get lost or stolen. About 1 laptop in 5 is lost or stolen each year according to an FBI/Ponemon Study.
- Many laptops contain company confidential information and/or private information of customers.
- There are laws enacted in 45 US States covering security-related incidents, most of which require companies to notify the attorney general and anyone whose data is, or may be, compromised.
- Companies need to monitor what files are on laptops outside the office and in the event that they fall into unauthorized hands, make sure that access to the contents is minimized.
- Large companies have paid hundreds of thousands of dollars to implement data security monitoring and compliance systems but these are out of reach to small and mid-size businesses...until now.
